Introduction

En 1976, MM. Brinckley et Plunkett, membres du Band Section - Military Historical Society prirent l'initiative de créer une association de musique militaire. D'autres personnes originaires du Canada, des Etats-Unis, d'Australie et d'Europe, fort intéressées, les rejoignirent. C'est en 1977 que se situe l'origine de l'IMMS actuelle. Au début, cette association était entièrement gérée depuis Londres.

L'International Military Music Society (Société Internationale de Musique Militaire, IMMS) a vu le jour en Grande-Bretagne suite aux rencontres de passionnés de musique militaire et de musiciens professionnels du genre qui, se retrouvant de manière informelle, décidèrent de se créer une structure pour mieux communiquer et ensuite, de s'organiser pour faciliter les échanges avec les personnes ayant les mêmes goûts qu'eux dans d'autres pays.

Ses objectifs, comme l'indique l'article II de ses statuts, sont d'informer sur les différents aspects de la musique militaire et de suivre l'évolution des formations musicales militaires : musiques, orchestres, fanfares, orchestres d'harmonie ou symphoniques, ensembles à vent, de cuivres, de percussions, de cornemuses, de chœurs, mais aussi la musique écrite, les instruments, les enregistrements, les historiques, les traditions et les uniformes. L'IMMS apporte un intérêt à tous ces aspects à travers le monde via la promotion et la recherche de tous types d'activités s'y rattachant.

L'association est administrée par un comité international. Trois fois par an, elle édite une revue rédigée en anglais, Band International, qui est un organe officiel de communication.

L'IMMS en Belgique

La branche belge existe depuis 1985 et organise régulièrement plusieurs activités pour ses membres.

Les membres belges de l'IMMS reçoivent en plus le magazine «Parade» qui contient des informations sur les activités, les nouveaux CDs, les concerts, les Tattoo et festivals et des articles sur la musique militaire en Belgique et à l'étranger. Les membres peuvent également profiter d'activités originales comme assister au défilé du 21 juillet, rendre visite à des musiques militaires et participer aux réunions de l'IMMS à l'étranger. En 2015, le 30^{ème} anniversaire de la branche belge a été célébré.

Si vous êtes intéressé par les activités de notre association, n'hésitez pas à nous demander un numéro gratuit de Parade et de Band International.

Inleiding

De heren Brinckley en Punklett, beiden lid van de Band Section – Military Historical Society, nemen in 1976 het initiatief om een vereniging van de militaire muziek te stichten. Andere sterk geïnteresseerde personen uit Canada, de VS, Australië en Europa, sluiten zich hierbij aan. Het is eigenlijk in 1977 dat de huidige IMMS gesticht werd. Bij aanvang werd de vereniging enkel vanuit Londen bestuurd.

De International Military Music Society (Internationaal Gezelschap van de Militaire Muziek, IMMS) werd gevormd in Groot-Brittannië door informele ontmoetingen van gepassioneerden voor militaire muziek en professionele muzikanten. De aanleiding hiervoor was om structuur te geven alsook de communicatie te verbeteren en de uitwisseling van informatie tussen gelijkgestemde personen in verschillende landen aan te moedigen.

Haar objectieven, zoals beschreven in artikel II van de statuten, zijn het informeren over de verschillende aspecten van de militaire muziek alsook het volgen van de evolutie van de verschillende militaire muziekgezelschappen: muziekkapellen, orkesten, fanfares, harmonie- en blaas symfonieorkesten, blaas ensembles, brass-band, percussie, doedelzakken, koren alsook geschreven bladmuziek, instrumenten, opnames, de geschiedenis, de tradities en de uniformen. De IMMS tracht hiervoor wereldwijd een interesse op te wekken via promotie en de organisatie van activiteiten.

IMMS wordt bestuurd door een international comité. Ze geeft jaarlijks drie nummers van het Engelstalig tijdschrift « Band International » uit. Dit is eveneens het officiële communicatie orgaan van IMMS.

De IMMS in België

De Belgische afdeling bestaat sinds 1985 en organiseert verschillende activiteiten voor haar leden.

De Belgische IMMS leden ontvangen daarbovenop het magazine «Parade» met informatie over de activiteiten, nieuwe Cd's, concerten, taptoes en festivals en artikels over de militaire muziek in binnen- en buitenland. De leden kunnen ook deelnemen aan originele activiteiten zoals het défilé van 21 juli, bezoeken aan militaire muziekkorpsen en IMMS meetings in het buitenland.

In 2015 vierde de Belgische Branch haar 30^{ste} verjaardag.

Indien u geïnteresseerd bent in onze vereniging, kunt u contact met ons opnemen voor een proefexemplaar van Parade en Band International.
